We are Sasha and Joshua, and we are Two Passports - a travel blog dedicated to aspirational and attainable travel.

We created Two Passports as a passion project to share our love of travel as well as guides, tips, and tricks to help ease the stress of planning that perfect city break.

Across our blog and Instagram, we enjoy creating quality (and useful!) travel content. We are huge advocates for avoiding the stereotypical and the contrived. In addition to the practical details, we share our tips on where to go and what to see.
